Market Review & Outlook

From the CIO's Desk

Fund Managers Report - January 2026

The domestic equity market sustained its bullish momentum in January, with the benchmark KSE-100 Index closing at 184,174 points, registering a 5.8% MoM gain (+10,120 points). Market sentiment remained constructive, supported by improving liquidity conditions and expectations of positive result announcements. Despite market expectations of a rate cut, the SBP kept the policy rate unchanged at 10.5%, however, it reduced the Cash Reserve Ratio (CRR) by 1%, thereby improving liquidity for banks.

On the external front, the current account recorded a deficit of USD 244mn in December, bringing the cumulative balance to a deficit of USD 200mn for CY25 and USD 1,174mn for 1H FY26, compared with surpluses of USD 496mn and USD 957mn, respectively, in the same period last year. The deterioration was largely driven by a 12% YoY increase in imports to USD 5.7bn during December, led by higher food and transport imports amid increased CKD inflows. Meanwhile exports during the same month remained under pressure, declining 11% YoY to USD 2.7bn. Offsetting the pressure to some extent, workers remittances remained robust, rising 17% YoY to USD 3.5bn versus USD 3.0bn last year. Despite the wider current account deficit, SBP foreign exchange reserves remained broadly stable at around USD 16bn during the month.

Inflation continued its moderation trend in January, with headline CPI easing to approximately 5.8% YoY, bringing the 7MFY26 average inflation down to 5.2%, compared to 6.5% in the same period last year, largely due to high base effects and softening food inflation. Core inflation also softened to 7.6% during the month of January, down from 8.84% in the previous year, however it was up 20bps on MoM basis primarily due to increasing in housing index.

During January 2026, yields at the shorter end of the curve trended lower, primarily due to reduced cut-off rates in Treasury bill auctions. The 1- and 3-month PKRV declined by 14 bps and 18 bps, closing at 10.21% and 10.20%, respectively. Similarly, the 6- and 12-month PKRV decreased by 8 bps and 4 bps, respectively.

Yields on longer-tenor instruments continued to ease, driven largely by lower cut-off rates in recent PIB auctions amid expectations of a policy rate cut, which triggered broad-based repricing across the secondary market. As a result, the 3-, 5-, and 10-year PKRVs declined by 22 bps, 20 bps, and 37 bps, respectively, closing at 10.28%, 10.61%, and 11.10%.

Looking ahead, money market funds are expected to deliver stable returns. Income funds may experience some volatility following the SBP's decision to maintain the policy rate at status quo in the January 2026 monetary policy, however, they are likely to generate attractive accruals for investors with an investment horizon of six months or longer.

For equities, as the benchmark index P/E ratio is now close to its historical median of 8-8.5x, future returns are expected to be driven by fresh liquidity, stable to higher dividend payouts, and continued macroeconomic stability, particularly improvements in SBP reserves and import cover, which have historically shown a strong correlation with equity market performance. In the medium term, earnings growth along-with demand growth in key sectors such as automobiles, construction, and oil marketing companies (OMCs) is expected to drive market sentiments. Furthermore, expected decline in the policy rate during 2HCY26 could further enhance the attractiveness of equities as an asset class, potentially supporting a rerating from current valuation multiples.

We recommend our investors to invest in our equity funds as per their risk appetite and return expectations. For instance, our Al-Ameen Islamic Asset Allocation Fund (AIAAF) offers an appropriate strategy for investors with low to moderate risk tolerance. This fund invests in a diversified portfolio of stocks, bonds, and money market instruments. It has the potential to earn returns well above those on offer in Money Market and Income Funds, while limiting risk by investing no more than 40% of its assets in stocks at any point in time. For those with higher risk tolerance and return expectations, we have Al-Ameen Shariah Stock Fund, which offers pure exposure to the domestic equity market.

We strongly recommend our investors to also invest in our Voluntary Pension Scheme (Al-Ameen Islamic Retirement Savings Fund) in order to avail tax benefits, grow their long-term savings and achieve retirement security. For those with a longer investment horizon, we recommend a high exposure to Equity Sub-Fund of the Scheme. We have been following an aggressive investment strategy in this Sub-Fund considering its long time horizon and low liquidity/redemption pressures. The strategy has performed well and the Equity Sub-Fund has generated an absolute return of 3014.41% (KMI-30 Index: 1578.47% since inception). This translates to an average annualized return of 24.41% p.a. (KMI-30 Index: 19.62% p.a.) - thus outperforming the KMI-30 Index by a significant margin.
